

We absolutely do not want the Wisconsin No Call List weakened!
Since it has been in effect, we have peaceful evenings at home for the first time in many years. Before this, we felt our home and privacy were being invaded daily with unwanted solicitations. We were regularly harassed by companies that we did not want to do business with, and we feel if they must bother us unnecessarily, do it through the mail so we can review their offers at our leisure -- not under the pressure of a telemarketer. Thank you Wisconsin, and keep up the good work of protecting the privacy of our homes from unwanted invaders.

Sincerely,

Randy and Karen Callison
